

Bevington to Welcome Royal Couple to the Northwest Territories

July 4, 2011

For Immediate Release

Dennis Bevington the Member of Parliament for the Western Arctic will be part of the NWT welcoming party for the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge this evening in Yellowknife.

“On behalf of all Northerners I am honoured to welcome their royal highnesses to the Northwest Territories on their first Royal Tour. We have such diversity here in the NWT, and our First Nations and Aboriginal people have a long storied history with the Royal family.”

Bevington will join Premier Floyd Roland, Yellowknife Mayor Gordon VanTighem and several First Nations Chiefs at the Yellowknife airport this evening to greet the Royal Couple. Bevington will also be attending the public event tomorrow at SombaK’e Park, and their departure at the Yellowknife airport on Wednesday.

“With the theme of ‘Moving Forward Together,’ the tour will provide the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge a first hand look at our diverse culture and our Northern Territory, I am sure that this Royal Tour will forge an enduring relationship with this extraordinary couple,” Bevington added.
